The event — co-hosted by Cal Poly, the office of state Sen. Bill Monning, D-Carmel, and the office of Assemblyman Katcho Achadjian, R-San Luis Obispo — will be held 1 to 2:30 p.m. California has hundreds of volunteer boards and commissions that keep state government moving by overseeing a wide variety of topics such as accounting, barbering, guide dogs, veterinary medicine, water quality and workforce investment. Pasquil, who has served as appointments secretary since 2011, tours the state to explain the process and encourage people to participate and represent their communities.
