Cal Poly Showcased as Exemplary Engineering Ethics Program

Cal Poly was recognized as a top university for ethics in engineering education. The National Academy of Engineering (NAE) included Cal Poly among 25 universities in the report "Infusing Ethics into the Development of Engineers: Exemplary Education Activities and Programs." Published by the NAE's Center for Engineering Ethics and Society (CEES), the report is a resource for institutions and educators working to strengthen and expand their ethics programs and improve the capabilities of practicing and future engineers.

Three Startup Companies Complete CIE Incubator Program

Three new companies recently graduated from the SLO HotHouse Incubator, a program in the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship (CIE) devoted to taking businesses from startup to sustainable. CIE provides a structured, two-year program for startups to receive individual coaching from subject-matter expert mentors, including assistance with product development and business management. CIE works closely with the startups to move them through the commercialization process to a successful launch. Since its inception in 2010, six out of 12 graduating incubator companies are running businesses in San Luis Obispo County, added 30 new jobs to the overall economy and 19 locally.

Open House Names 2016 Grand Marshalls

Former California Secretary of State Bruce McPherson and Col. Joseph Righello, commander of Camp San Luis Obispo, will serve as grand marshalls in the 2016 Poly Royal Parade Saturday, April 16. Righello and McPherson, both Cal Poly alumni, were selected for their embodiment of this year's Open House theme, "Celebrating the Mustang Legacy," and for contributions to Cal Poly and the San Luis Obispo communities. Cal Poly's 23rd annual Open House will take place April 14-16. The event allows admitted and current students, their supporters, alumni and the San Luis Obispo community to spend the weekend exploring what Cal Poly and the surrounding San Luis Obispo area has to offer.

Grand Avenue Construction to Cause Delays During Spring Break

Underground construction along Grand Avenue will be underway during spring break, March 19-26, resulting in lane closures and traffic delays. There will also be an influx of prospective students and families at this time for campus tours. To avoid the congestion, enter campus on California Boulevard or Highland Drive. The transit stops located on Grand Avenue near the University Union will be closed during this time. SLO Transit and Regional Transit will route buses to the stop near Kennedy Library. Transit riders are advised to allow time to arrive and depart from Kennedy Library.

Medication Disposal Bin Installed at Health Center

The Health Center has installed a medication disposal bin. The bins are a place to dispose of unwanted, unused or expired prescriptions, including controlled substances and over-the-counter medications. This will ensure that deposited medications are not accidentally used or intentionally misused by someone else. The bin will be available during regular Health Center business hours.
